LET US INTRODUCE OURSELVES...

Quality First Limited now trading as 'Rosie and Jim' was first established in 1997. Award winning Craft Butcher Jimmy McLoughin originally began producing gourmet chicken products for supply to butcher shops and restaurants.

Specialising in ready-to-cook chicken, an extensive range of popular products was developed around the needs of the customer. An emphasis on quality ingredients combined with attention to detail throughout the production process, resulted in popular, consistent meal solutions. Many of our products were awarded speciality food awards from the Associated Craft Butchers of Ireland. A policy of ongoing product improvement and innovation combined with strong commitment to customer service has resulted in the company going from strength to strength.

Rosie and Jimmy McLoughlin are a husband and wife team who share a passion for wholesome quality food and a commitment to excellence.

Butchers, chefs and fast food restaurants all testify to the continued popularity of the Rosie and Jim range with their customers.

CHICKEN GOUJONS

POINT OF SALE MATERIAL

Our products are ideally suited for retail and foodservice. Products are supplied 'Ready to Cook' and are available chilled or frozen.

We want to help you to introduce your customers to the quality, variety and convenience of our products.

We provide our stockists with convenient display cards which show the product when cooked, product name and an area for displaying the price.

Simply write your retail price in the space provided and put the card with the product on display.
